Current position and background

With over 33 years experience behind him as a solicitor, and 15 as a mediator in commercial law, Jonathan is well placed to take on Mediation cases that require a highly skilled and personal approach. Jonathan has the ability to grasp the key issues of a case quickly, his vast experience and range of Mediation cases that he has been involved with have given him the tact and robustness that leads to a satisfactory conclusion, enabling all parties to cost-effectively put the case behind them and get on with their business.

Jonathan, a Barrister, Arbitrator and Mediator with Stone Chambers, is a member of the JAMS International Panel and one of the founder members of CEDR. He well known for the use of the ADR (Alternate Dispute Resolution) principle in resolving cases. His wise guidance, flexible approach and excellent communications skills as a team player make him the right choice for contentious or straightforward mediation cases and has been appointed to the LMAA/Baltic Exchange Mediation Panel. He has lectured widely and written numerous articles on the subject of mediation, and is co-author of ADR and Commercial Disputes.

He was voted Who's Who Legal Global Shipping & Maritime Lawyer of the Year in 2010 & again in 2011.

Education

LLB (Hons), Jonathan is fluent in both French and German, a great advantage for cross-border mediation cases.

Work

Jonathan's working career has been impressive. After leaving Nottingham University with a University Exhibition and LLB Honours Degree in 1977, Jonathan went on to Post Graduate studies in France where he completed a Masters Degree. He has worked abroad in both Hong Kong and Hamburg. The majority of his working career has been involved with Mediation and Arbitration in some form or other, in most cases with spectacular results. He is well known for bringing cases to a successful conclusion when they had already been backwards and forwards to court on several occasions with no result.

Prior to joining Stone Chambers, he was joint head of international law firm Ince and Co.'s Arbitration and Mediation group. He is considered to be at the top of his profession.

Feedback digest

Reviewer: Mr Richbell David (david@richbell.org)

Latest Update: 2014-03-17 10:49:37

This digest update is based upon feedback received since the original entry.

The mediation satisfaction feedback score for the years 2011-13 continue to average around 9/10, which indicates a high satisfaction rate amongst users.

This digest has been prepared by David Richbell, a commercial Mediator and trainer working out of the UK. It is based upon ten feedbacks spread over 2009, 2010 and 2011.

Jonathan has a calm and gracious manner which instils confidence in those with whom he works. He is intelligent and perceptive with an instinct for settlement.

Jonathan has been consistently rated at the highest level (9 /10) for his ability as a mediator in the mediations that have provided feed back. There is a consistent willingness expressed by all users to recommend and / or reuse him in the future. He was reported to be patient and understanding and able to deal with difficult mediations well.

The overall response was that Jonathan is perceived to be a hard working and skillful mediator.

On one occasion an administrative error caused a rooming problem which disrupted the start of the mediation but no other negative comments have been made.

This summary represents a fair and balanced view of the responses received and of my own personal knowledge.
